

Post-conference programme: staying in Auckland for the weekend?

Saturday 7 December

1. PUBLIC ART
10am and 1.30pm Guided Walks of the public art works of Auckland City/Hikoi Celebrating Toi-Taonga ki Tāmaki. Grayson Goffe will be leading a walking tour that highlights Māori public art, architecture and design. The original research for this hikoi stems from the public art publication, Te Paparahi, Toi Māori - Walks in the City, a free booklet that highlights Māori public art, architecture and design that defines our city centre.
10.00am – limited to 15 people
1.30pm – limited to 15 people
Tours last 90-120 minutes and depart from in front of St Kevins Arcade, 183 Karangahape Road, Auckland CBD. Register here: <https://guided-hikoi.eventbrite.co.nz>
2. MANGERE ART CENTRE EXHIBITION OPENING
10.30am Nectar with Louisa Afoa, Darcell Apelu, Ayesha Green, Areez Katki, Marian Maguire, Monica Paterson, Daniel Twiss and Ruby White.
This exhibition champions goddesses, heroines and powerful mythological women. The eight artists draw on their own cultural backgrounds to celebrate female figures from myths and legends. The resulting works share fresh perspectives and reveal finer details often left out of each story. Nectar was developed by curators Cora-Allan Wickliffe and Madeleine Gifford for Māngere Arts Centre - Ngā Tohu o Uenuku
3. AUCKLAND ART GALLERY EXHIBITION TOUR
11am guided tour of the exhibition Louise Henderson: From Life by co-curator Julia Waite. This is the first major survey of work by French-born, New Zealand artist Louise Henderson (1902–1994). Featuring work from across Henderson’s seven-decade career, the exhibition traces the development of the artist’s bold and colourful abstract style. Entry fee for non-NZ residents.
11.00am – limited to 20 people Email julia.waite@aucklandartgallery.com to register.
4. MARITIME MUSEUM EXHIBITION
2.30pm tour of the exhibition Tākiri by co-curator Linda Tyler. Entry fees for non-NZ residents, meet in the foyer of the Maritime Museum, corner of Quay and Hobson Street, Auckland 1140.
5. BUS TRIP TO TE TUHI EXHIBITION OPENINGS IN PAKURANGA
3.30pm the bus will depart from Artspace at 300 Karangahape Road to take you to the opening of three exhibitions, returning to the city at 6pm: See Elliot Collins: I Remember Mountains; Rebellious Modernities with Sosefina Andy, Matt Coldicutt, Gordon Matta-Clark, Yonel Watene, curated by Gabriela Salgado, which presents physical and emotional spaces that engage the senses; the project wall: Karen Rubado: under intense scrutiny and billboards by Vanessa Crofskey: smoke signals.
